Speaker | Performance Strategist | Aviatrice

Pushing Harder is not a strategy.....it's the warning sign

ABOUT BELINDA

Do you know what it's like to fly in such a tight formation that one sneeze could be disastrous? Belinda does. Part adrenaline junkie, part bombshell and all woman, Belinda transforms the way people think about high performance and gives them practical ways to create extraordinary results without sacrificing themselves to achieve them.

WHAT THEY SAY

Belinda was inspiring and has incredible insight into how people work - I felt like she was talking directly to me, about me. Her performance insights resonated with me and changed my entire mindset around success and achievement. I applied your performance tools with instant results.

A UNIQUE PERSPECTIVE

Belinda has lived performance across worlds that rarely collide, military aviation, live performance, wealth creation and leadership. From flying under pressure and consequence to commanding a stage with presence, her range gives her a distinctive perspective.

- RAAF Pilot, Burlesque Performer, Performance Strategist
- 20+ years in high-pressure, high-consequence environments
- Creator of the Core Power System™

PERFORMANCE INTEGRITY

The new standard for sustainable performance

Audiences will:

- Redefine high performance as capability across the areas of life that matter, under pressure, over time and without hidden personal cost.
- Recognise when effort is no longer the answer and identify the conditions that need to change.
- Understand the three conditions required to build capability that holds as pressure, complexity and consequence increase.
- Identify what is limiting their performance and gain a personalised insight into where to focus first.
- Take one practical action to strengthen performance where it matters most.

WATCH BELINDA SPEAK

Competence tells you what someone could do in a specific moment. Capacity tells you what they've got left to do it with, and capability needs both of those. Most organisations only measure one of these performance fundamentals

BELINDA BEATTY

WHO IS BELINDA

Belinda partners with high-performing people and organisations who want compounding results without the hidden personal or organisational costs that often accompany success.

Belinda challenges the assumption that better performance requires more effort. Through her Core Power System™, she reveals the conditions that make capability available when it matters most. Audiences leave feeling more in control, with a personalised insight into what is limiting their performance and a clear action to improve it. Belinda's work helps organisations recognise the difference between performance sustained through effort and performance designed to last.

WHAT OTHERS SAY

"Wow! Wow! Wow! So original, Air Force precision with an unexpected perspective on performance."

Mike Flynn
Director, The Palms Agency

"Fact-based, authentic, passionate—Belinda's delivery style made a lasting impact."

Emma

WHY BOOK BELINDA

- Trusted across aviation, defence, finance, infrastructure and complex operational environments.
- A rare on-stage duality: RAAF pilot precision paired with a performer's command of the room.
- Audiences leave with insight into an operating system for high performance that can be applied in every area of their life.
- Content built around real, high-consequence experience, brought to life through storytelling.
- Range across military aviation, live performance and leadership, so the delivery holds attention as much as the insight does.
- A speaker who brings both rigour and charisma into the same room.
- Belinda turns performance into a measurable, trainable and memorable process.
